Wounded at Festubert near La Bassa bullet wound in left thigh on the 1st March conveyed to Royal Infirmary Dorset on the 6th March and after five weeks careful treatment I was progressing favourably until I met with an accident in the grounds by going over uneven ground on a wheel chair and I fell out of the chair and breaking the same leg that I was wounded in and I still receive their kindest attention and treatment. I remain yours

After two years & 365 days in the trenches I at last received my Blighty. Shot not too severe but it may say quite enough as long as I arrived over the side and in the Royal Infirmary Derby on 2. 4. 15. 17 Where all the kindness that is possible has been shown to me by the Nurses & Doctor of 106 Ward. Wishing you all the best that the world can furnish & the best of luck and thinking you for all the kindness shown me then he fired his shotgun. I am

Silly enough to get in the way of one from the Highlands on July 25, we all passed through a very nice valley then having a wind does not matter, as you have to do is to let on your back and wait patiently for about six weeks, not very interesting, but you get a good rest. I came to Derby on July 22nd and still always remember the happy days I spent there. There will be your loved ones and the great kindness shown me by the sister and mother of Noble that is still always consider myself very fortunate and is very thankful I was sent there.

Dear Aunt,

I write to let you know I am now a Wounded Hero. I am at present lying in Hospital, and suffering great pain, which the nurses take much care to see to.

Hoping this finds you the same, I remain

Your affec. nephew,
Ole C. Blossom.

There once was a private called Blossom,
Who said "Let me just come across 'em!"

He hit every 'em.

Have some lively old 'em
Just to show them that Blossom can boss 'em.

But the best of the fun

Was, it came to a rain

And Blossom showed how he could boss 'em.

I got Wounded in the Right leg by a piece of gas shell & I was very lucky. I was only about 10 yds. away when about 12 shells dropped among us, I could not get known Help for some time so I crawled into a house and I threw some broken china out and one of my own men came up & I was taken ^{off the ground} to Poperinge and from there to Estaples & to the Derby Royal Infirmary where I have been treated very well.

The Smithy fire is glowing bright,
The anvil rings and clangs clear;
The Smith is tending mightily,
And all the world may hear.

The Smith he fashions a wondrous chain Of Friendship and Liberty,
To bind the earth with links of steel
In the golden years-to-be.

His muscles crack and his sinews strain,
And the blood-drops flow apace;
What rocks the Smith - each drop is filled With the price of the Master-Piece!

The grover breeds of the Middle Earth
Smart and snags and bits;
Steady-swiftly - falls each blow - Liberty - Freedom - Right.

Yours has nobler task been given:

The noise of the world is hushed Till the mighty arm of Right prevails
And Tyranny lies crushed.

Remember me, is all I ask
But if remembrance, proves a task
"Forget."

Pte J. L. Matthews
1st Yorkshire Regt

Wounded at Hemmel (Flanders) on the 15th day of March 1915.

"Dear Belgium"

Dear little "Belgium" was the very first to see the tortured slaves, she did not say, "Go away to fight - hand down the arms rich men -"
