SECTION OR PLATOON ROLL BOOK.

DIRECTIONS

FOR KEEPING THE ROLL BOOK,

The names of N.C.O's and Drummers to be entered in order of seniority, and those of privates, bandsmen, pioneers, etc., in alphabetical order. A space should be left after each rank of N.C.O's, and after each initial letter of privates, etc., to permit of those joining later being entered in their proper places.

When men become non-effective by death, discharge, etc., the cause and date thereof is to be noted in the Column of Remarks in the Roll, in ink, and a line drawn through their names. All casualties of a temporary nature, such as "Hospital," "Furlough," "Prison," "Detention," "Absent," etc., to be noted, in pencil, in the Column of Remarks.

*TOWEL.

The towel in use will be laid across top of bedding.

WATER-BOTTLE.

The water-bottle will bang with carriage on left and centre peg.

WASHING TUB, COAL TRAY, &c.

The washing tub and coal tray will be arranged on the floor at the same end of the table as tin meat dishes.

WINDOWS.

WINDOWS.

The windows of every barrack-room are to be open sufficiently to allow of free ventilation as soon as the men have risen, and are to be kept open during the day to the follest extent that the weather and season may admit.

WASHING FLOORS.

WASHING FLOORS.

The washing of floors when necessary should take place early in the morning, so that the rooms may have the whole of the day to dry.

To avoid unnecessary soaking of the floors and damage to the ceiling of the room below, as little water as possible should be used.

The water should, under no circumstances, be swilled over the floor. It would be well to omit the washing altogether on rainy or damp days.
