INTRODUCTION

This collection was deposited in Sheffield City Libraries in August, 1957 by Major Barker of East Lodge, Bakewell. It consists primarily of the papers and title deeds of the Barker family, but also includes material relating to the Watkinson, Scholler and other North Derbyshire families with whom they intermarried. So important were these intermarriages that the families in question have been used as the basis for arrangement in this list. The papers of these families contain most of the earlier records in the collection as the Barkers did not possess extensive estates themselves until the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries. At the period at which the first notices of them appear they were in obscure circumstances and their first trade was that of carpenter. The family fortunes were only really founded in the eighteenth century by Thomas Barker who became Steward to the Duke of Rutland. (Probably from such further papers).

Although mainly concerned with the estates, the varied interest and professions of members of the Barker family are also represented. Several were interested in lead mining, William Barker was a merchant in Smyrna and Charles Barker a captain in the Royal Navy. Two members of the family were in the medical profession but nothing survives of their professional records save the certificates of Thomas Barker (b.1808).

I BARKER FAMILY

The deeds and papers listed under this heading relate primarily to the Barkers but the section also includes a good deal of material which does not fall specifically under any of the other family headings. This material is assumed to have had some connection with the Barkers. Most of the documents in the section are of relatively late date for reasons indicated in the introduction. The earliest papers relating to the family are those in subsections F.1 and 4 which were originally collected for genealogical purposes.

Papers relating to the lead trade, in which several of the Barkers were interested have been listed as a separate section.

The Charlesworths lived at Castleton and were related to the Barkers through the marriage of Catherine, daughter of Thomas Charlesworth to John Barker, son of Henry. Thomas Barker acted as executor for Robert Charlesworth the elder, and John Barker for his son the Revd. Robert Charlesworth (d.1786). By the latter's marriage with Ann Caygill certain estates at Halifax also passed to the family. The Revd. Robert Charlesworth purchased Cotes Park Farm at Alfreton, the fee farm rent of this property being sold to J. H. Barker in 1830.

VI WATKINSON FAMILY

As noted above, under Scholler, the Watkinsons had a family link with the Barkers, as the wife of Godfrey Watkinson the younger was a Scholler and her daughter, Jane, married John Barker (d.1755). The family estates centred on Brampton, Holme Hall, Wadshelf and Newbold, all near Chesterfield. The Wadshelf papers include some early surveys and agreements between the tenants relating to the open fields. Elizabeth Scholler married Watkinson in 1736 and after his death married Captain Thomas Bourne, this marriage leading to disputes over the rights of respective claimants to the estates.

Introduction

Turkey,
These papers refer, in the main, to William Barker (1738-1825), merchant, of Smyrna, and to Captain Charles Barker, R.N. (1811-1860), but they include also a letter from Colonel John Morris to Colonel Charles Fairfax written during the siege of Pontefract Castle in July 1648, with Colonel Fairfax's reply.

William Barker, who was born on 31 January, 1737/8, was the youngest son of Thomas Barker (1709-1754), of The Hall, Bakewell, Derbyshire, Steward of the Duke of Rutland. He emigrated to Florida, where he purchased an estate, but in 1760 he left and settled in Smyrna where he remained until his death, which took place on 23 July 1825. He married, firstly in 1763, Flora Robin (1739-1775) and, secondly in 1776, Maria Elizabeth Schnell of Smyrna (b.1760), and had 25 children. One of his sons, John (1771-1849), was Consul-General in Egypt from 1829-1833 and a well-known horticulturist.

Captain Charles Barker, R.N. was the 4th son of Thomas Barker (1767-1816), of Ashford Hall, Bakewell, and a great-grandson of Thomas Barker (1709-1754) mentioned above. He was born in February 1811 and entered the Royal Navy in 1826, being commissioned as Lieutenant on 28 June 1838. He saw service in American waters, the West Indies, the Mediterranean, the South-East coast of America, the East Indies and the Pacific. He was promoted Commander in 1845 and Captain in 1850. His last command was H.M.S. Retribution, a paddle wheel steam frigate of 56 guns. He died, unmarried, at Bakewell in May 1860.

Colonel John Morris (1617?-1649), a professional soldier, served in Ireland where he distinguished himself, but in 1644 he joined the Parliamentary army. Being piqued, however, by his non-employment on the formation of the New Model, he determined to avenge himself, which he did eventually in 1648 by the capture, through a ruse, of Pontefract Castle from the Parliamentary garrison. But, being besieged by General Lambert, he was obliged to treat with him. With a companion he escaped into Lancashire, but was betrayed and made prisoner, being condemned to death and executed on 23 August, 1649. Thomas Barker (1709-1754) married in 1729 a descendant of Colonel Morris.

The Registrar desires to thank Major Barker for allowing these interesting papers to be examined and listed.

October 1958.

B(arker) proposes to remit £39. 17. 5. with interest from 14 January 1796, being the balance of Mrs. (W.) B(arker)'s £200, to Mr. Perkins in the form of lead, as soon as communication with Smyrna is secure: with regard to the shares in the profit of the mines, if there is more than enough to repay what is outstanding, the balance will be remitted to Mr. William Barker. B/10

ESTATE AND PERSONAL - CORRESPONDENCE

-19. 1791 December 2: William Barker from Leghorn to Mr. Thomas Dunnage, London (his sister's husband): has agreed to join Mr. Tomlinson at Smyrna; hopes for salary equal to half the profits; Mr. Thornton interested: arrival of his daughter Grace via Falmouth; asks for loan of £50. A/1

- 20. 1794 August 2: William Barker from Smyrna to his brother John Barker, esq., Bakewell, Derbyshire: asking for help to pay his debts, amounting in all to £950, in order to qualify him to be chosen as consul at Smyrna; Mr. Tomlinson, having learnt the business and language from him, has dissolved partnership: mention of a cargo of lead. A/2

Barker

Bar. D. 800

- 21.

1795 June 11: Same to same: concerning a cargo of lead, sent by Mr. Dunnage on order of John Barker, to Mr. Perkins at Smyrna for benefit of William Barker's wife and children; mentions that a squadron has blocked up French frigates which formerly infested the seas there; requests that Mr. Perkins may have authority to advance him money for the building of warehouses, to be let advantageously to Mr. Tomlinson and another; marriage of his daughter Grace to Mr. Richards, purser of the Nemesis frigate: hopes his daughter Sarula will come out from England. A/3

- 22.

1795 November 17: William Barker from Smyrna to Messrs. Thomas and John Barker, Bakewell: requests that balance of £200, promised by their late father for William's wife and children, be paid with interest: in 1780 William sold to their father a half share in a little estate in Lincs. and a debt of the Marquis of Grandby for £400, and was to receive a further sum if the debt was paid; the £200 was promised to his wife in satisfaction of this, and he is also entitled to interest from the time when the debt was paid: his daughter Grace has gone to Salonica with her husband, and his son James is also on the Nemesis, rated as a midshipman. A/4

- 23.

1796 January 14: William Barker (the younger) from London to (?Thomas) Barker: enclosing a letter from his father to Thomas's brother John, concerning the £200 promised, etc.; endorsed with accounts of expenses of the family amounting to £45. 13. 6. A/5

- 24.

1797 April 2: William Barker from Smyrna to Mr. Thomas Barker at Bakewell. Describes disturbances following the slaughter of a Turk by an alleged Venetian from a Russian ship. Fearing that justice would not be done, the populace came in a body to Frank Street killing Christians and plundering shops. Among the English, Mr. Perkins was the least sufferer. Mr. Barker had his door burnt by falling timbers but his property was saved through the intervention of a Turkish friend. Mentions that Mrs. Perkins (Mrs. Barker's sister) had a child on the night of the fire on board a ship with 60-70 people in the cabin 'all fugitives from the shore'. Feels it would be prudent to retire to England. Postscript by William Barker junior asking for shoes. (Framed, and retained by the owner at his residence in Esher).

- 25.

1801 July 15: Maria E. Barker (wife of William Barker) from Smyrna to Messrs. Thomas and John Barker, Bakewell: requesting them to account with her husband, and not with her, for the balance of the £200 promised her by their father, since her husband has hypothecated to her the warehouses built on premises appertaining to their house, as security for payment to her. A/6

- 26.

1801 July 17: William Barker from Smyrna to Mr. Thomas Barker, Bakewell: enclosing A/6 with deed of mortgage of warehouses; reminds him of transactions concerning estate at Sutterton and Wigtoft, Lincs., and debt of Marquis of Granby, etc. and requests that balance due to him be paid to Mr. William Tomlinson; as it is to no purpose to wait for a peace and send it to Mr. Perkins: possibility of rupture with Turks, accordingly he has taken steps to obtain Swedish protection, and a firman from the Port. A/7

- 27.

1801 September 8: William Tomlinson from London to Thomas Barker, esq., Bakewell: forwarding A/7 (and A/6): is ready to receive the money, to purchase articles for William Barker's family; will furnish particulars about warehouses if required. A/8

-28.

1801 September 8: R. Barker from London to Thomas Barker, esq., Bakewell: covering letter sent with A/7, A/8, etc. A/9

-29.

1804: William Barker from Smyrna to Mr. Thomas Barker, Bakewell: a small balance due from William to estate of Thomas's father should have been paid off out of William's share of a mine, so there should now be something coming to William from the mine; he requests Thomas to order him out of it a pair of pumps and a pair of boots from "my brother Roberts Clerk of Yolgreave", and send them to Mr. William Tomlinson in London: asks news of relations and Bakewell, and sends news of his own children, and of a dangerous voyage to Egypt to do business on Commission, in the course of which he was nearly carried off by the "bloody flux". A/10

-30.

1812 August 24: William Barker from Smyrna to Thomas Barker, esq., Ashford Hall, near Bakewell: refers to his recent illness, and arrangements concerning the Yedick or goodwill of his business, which he wishes to keep in the family if possible; refers to Mr. Robert Wilkinson, Thomas's agent during Mr. Perkins's absence from Smyrna; and to the ex'ors of Mr. Charlesworth, who had an interest in his business; enquires again about his share of the mine. A/11

-31.

Copy of A/11, also sent. A/12

-32.

1814 March 10: William Barker from Smyrna to Thomas Barker, esq., Ashford, near Bakewell: thanks for letter of 12 January 1813; has sent a letter by Mr. Deyong of Smyrna, who was going to Derbyshire; has not received the shoes; thanks for advice about will; gives news of his son John, of Aleppo, who has visited Latachia, to consult Lady Stanhope's physician, his daughter Mary married to Mr. William Maltass, and other members of his family, including his son Edward in business at Malta. A/13

-33.

1815 January 30: Copy (sent): William Barker from Smyrna to Thomas Barker, esq., Bakewell: has not received the shoes; his son Robert is in London, acting as a Methodist preacher; he is intending to make over the Yedick of his business to one of his sons and retire to Leghorn; the plague at Smyrna; his son-in-law, William Maltass, means to settle in London. A/14

-34.

1815 August 2: William Barker from Smyrna to Thomas Barker, esq., Ashford, near Bakewell: the shoes have not arrived; Mr. Robert Wilkinson bankrupt, so the power of attorney given him by Mr. Charlesworth's ex'ors should be annulled by sending to Mr. George Perkins; the goodwill of his house not to be sold after his death, until his family is provided for; news of his family including his son George at a place near Halifax in America. A/15

-35.

1816 September 7: William Barker from Smyrna to Thomas Barker, esq., Bakewell: mostly repetition of A/15, which he fears he may not have received: endorsed with a note from John S. Richards, Lawrenny near Pembroke, giving William's address, - Mr. Wm. Barker, Smyrna, care of Messrs. Smitmers, Vienna and Isaac Morier, esq., Constantinople. A/16

- 1816 November 22: James Dunnage from Forest, Walthamstow, to John Barker, esq., Bakewell: necessity of withdrawing letters of attorney, given by John's late brother Thomas, ex'or of Mr. Charlesworth, to Mr. Wilkinson; Mr. Charlesworth's legacy was to be divided, after William Barker's death, between the surviving issue of William and Flora his first wife; William's son-in-law, Mr. William Maltass, suggested as suitable agent. A/17
- 37. 1816 December 7: (Rough copy): (John Barker) to James Dunnage: thanks for trouble taken concerning their uncle William's house; enclosing a letter to William in one to Mr. Wherry, for James to read and forward if he thinks proper; apologies for delay in answering, due to his absence at Derby; requests James to charge a chest of tea sent to Mr. Drewry to his account: state of lead market. A/18
- 38. 1816 December 7: (Rough copies): (John Barker) to Francis Wherry, esq., British Consul at Smyrna: asking him to recover letters of attorney, and any other papers concerning William Barker's house, from Mr. Robert Wilkinson; enclosing letter for William Barker. (also): (John Barker) to Mr. William Barker at Smyrna: acknowledges letter of 17 September addressed to his late brother Thomas; explains the request to the consul; asks further information about the whole business; suggests appointing Mr. William Maltass as agent. A/19
- 39. 1817 June 5: William Barker from Smyrna to his nephew John Barker, esq., Bakewell: thanks for letter of 7 December; John now one of the ex'ors of Mr. Charlesworth; William hopes he will agree not to sell William's house after his death, but that it he kept for his widow, children and legitimate grandchildren; consul Wherry applied to Mr. Wilkinson for the letter of attorney, which he could not find, but gave a written undertaking to destroy it if found later: after William's death, his ex'ors, of whom Mr. Tomlinson in London is one, will apply to John for orders; if John wishes to appoint an agent in Smyrna, William proposes his brother-in-law Mr. George Perkins, as his son-in-law Mr. William Maltass is leaving, and has already sent his wife Mary (Mimica) and 6 children to England under care of William's son Samuel; all his family at Smyrna well, except his wife who is rheumatic, and himself suffering from vertigo and failing sight; his son Richard engaged in counting house of Messrs. Hayes and Fontain, Henry with Messrs. Lee and Brant; Benjamin with his brother at Aleppo; Frederick in the counting house of Messrs. Webb and Co. at Leghorn; Edward in the secretaries office at Corfu; William has been troubled for the third time by his vagabond son George, whom he has fitted out again and who is now employed navigating a Swedish schooner to Algiers and Leghorn; his first wife is remarried in London, his 2nd he has left in Boston in America with two children; Grace has retired to Wales with her husband, and Sally (Sarula) is married to a Mr. Goodwin of Ludlow: respects to John's wife and all relations at Bakewell. A/20
- 40. 1817 November 11: Copy: (John Barker) to Mr. William Barker: has delayed answering the last until Mr. Dunnage had visited Derbyshire; John and Dunnage have examined Mr. Charlesworth's will; William has no power to bequeath any of the £2,000, but John will be glad to appropriate some of it to the support of William's widow, subject to legal advice; John approves of Mr. Wherry's action with regard to Mr. Wilkinson; he does not wish to appoint a new agent at present; George ought to make his own way in the world. 1820 January 17: William Barker from Smyrna to the ex'ors of the Reverend Mr. R. Charlesworth of Halifax, (directed to John Barker esq., Ashford Hall, near Bakewell): since William is not allowed to take possession of the £2,000 left him by Mr. Charlesworth, as it is hypothecated on the Yedick or goodwill of his house, he requests ex'ors to confirm their former agent Mr. George Perkins, and send him the money to lend out at Smyrna and pay the interest to William, to maintain his family in accordance with testator's idea. A/22

1825 August 2: (Copy): (George Perkins), ex'or of William Barker at Smirna to William Tomlinson, esq., London: William Barker died on 23 July, aged 86; he encloses copy of will, of which Tomlinson is also ex'or: he requires instructions from Mr. Charlesworth's trustees, to see if Mr. Barker is authorised to dispose of the legacy in favour of part only of his children: the estate is £20,000 in debt for moneys taken up, for reparation of the premises, and funeral expenses, which must be paid from future rents, and sale of furniture: William's sons Richard, Henry and Benjamin at Smirna, and Samuel at Constantinople, think it would be in the best interest of the heirs not to sell the house. (also on same sheet):

1825 August 17: Same to same: preceding is copy of letter sent on 2 August: late Mr. Barker's sons have given him a note of rents, inventory of furniture, and note of debts: best to defer all sales until affairs of Greeks and Turks are settled, or at least until he hears from Tomlinson or Mr. Charlesworth's trustees: the chief tenants of the house are Greeks who have come into the quarters for safety since the revolution; many opulent Greeks are absent in Europe, and it is likely that rents and values will go up when they return. (No signature). (also on same sheet):

1823 February 25: Copy of will of William Barker, son of Thomas and Sarah Barker of Bakewell, living at Smirna: soul to God, (etc.): cites will of his late cousin the Reverend Robert Charlesworth of Halifax, Yorkshire, directing that £2,000 be advanced to him for his family, not subject to the demands of his creditors: which sum was used to purchase the Yedik or goodwill of his house in Smirna; he directs that said Yedik, including 2 increases after original purchase, be sold as soon as convenient, and the money, after payment of hypothecations and debts, be equally divided between his daughters Sarah and Grace in England, and Marianna and Louise in Smirna, and Robert lawful son of his late son William; hoping that his daughter Mary who is well provided for, and his sons who can provide for themselves, will approve: his claim to lauds in East Florida, U.S.A., now pending, to be divided between all his children living and his grandson Robert; also the proceeds of all his furniture, plate, linen, books, jewels etc.; 130 spanish dollars lent to him by his daughter Marianna on 1 January 1814 to be secured to her by hypothecation on the rents of house and premises, and proceeds of sale thereof: George Perkins, senior, of Smirna and William Tomlinson of London, to be ex'ors: revokes previous wills of 20 December 1759 left with his brother-in-law Mr. Thomas Dunnage of London and of 5 April 1791 left with Mr. Thomas Hall, chaplain to the British factory at Leghorn: witnessed, George Boddington, Canc'l.; J. C. Joly; B. E. Codd. A/23

1825 September 29: William Tomlinson from London to John Barker, esq., Bakewell: death of Mr. William Barker: Mr. George Perkins and Tomlinson, ex'ors: John's father was one of the ex'ors of the Reverend Mr. Charlesworth, and John is his representative: in his opinion the disposal of the property rests with the ex'ors of Charlesworth, and not those of W. Baker; it will be in interest of W. Barker's family not to sell house; refers to extract from letter from Mr. Perkins, mentioning that the annual rent amounts to P13,450, which at current exchange of P46 per £, will be about £300, from which must be deducted repairs and ground rent thought to be about P500; is considering asking counsel's opinion, and would like to know if John has any points to be included in case: desires to save time and expense, and be of service to late Mr. Barker's family. (On same sheet): Copy of J(ohn) B(arker)'s answer to Mr. Tomlinson: agrees that William Barker had no right to dispose of hypothecation: thinks it best to have counsel's opinion, whether the money is to be divided equally between William's children or at discretion of Mr. Charlesworth's ex'ors: if it is at their discretion, he will be glad of assistance from Messrs. Tomlinson and Perkins as he knows little of the circumstances of his uncle's family: agrees that house should not be sold at present. A/24

-44.

1826 February 1: (Copy): Richard Barker; H. R. Barker; Benjamin Barker; and Samuel Barker (signature added at Constantinople on 10 February) to (Mr. Tomlinson): refers to former letter in which they desired that their father's will should be carried out, but that the house should not be sold yet: now, since some of the family do not agree that it is best to delay sale of the house, they, wishing to avoid law discussions, beg leave to annul their determination to give up their share of the £2,000 under the Reverend Mr. Charlesworth's will; they are no longer of the opinion that it is best to delay sale as any apparent advantage would be lost by the deterioration of the Turkish currency: they request him to inform Mr. Charlesworth's ex'or that they desire a speedy settlement of the affair. (On same sheet):-

1826 March 21: (Copy): (Mr. Tomlinson to counsel): in case submitted, the principal question is whether the ex'ors of Charlesworth or of Barker have right to dispose of £2,000 advanced by Charlesworth's ex'ors on security of Barker's house at Smyrna: houses held by foreigners in Turkey are held by Yediok, similar to copyhold in England, subject to a small ground rent to Turkish proprietor; Barker thought he was free to dispose of the legacy or the house on which it was secured, and the hypothecations mentioned in his will, to be paid off, are some small sums borrowed on the rents of the house; the house will produce only the £2,000 or less: if Barker's ex'ors can dispose, there is no difficulty; if the control rests with Charlesworth's ex'ors, are they to divide it according to Barker's will, or as per copy annexed, from Mr. Barker's four sons: he supposes it must go into Chancery: hopes to send counsel's opinion in a week or 10 days: he believes the list he sent of Mr. Barker's family is correct and that George died in America.
