

DERBYSHIRE RECORD OFFICE

D461 M/ Deeds and family papers of the Colvile family and connections by marriage 17 - 19 cents

COLVILLE FAMILY

The deeds relate to property mainly in Derbyshire, Leicestershire, Nottinghamshire and Cambridgeshire 17-19th cents. The Colvile family came from Newton Colvile in Cambridgeshire. Much of the property in these deeds, particularly in and around Duffield, belonged to the Bonell family and came to the Colviles on the marriage of Sir Charles Henry Colvile to Harriet Anne Bonell in 1818. Their son, Charles Robert Colvile, bought Lullington in 1840 from the executors of Sir Roger Gresley.

The papers of Major General Henry Edward Colvile of the Grenadier Guards, son of Charles Robert Colvile, relate to his military activities in Egypt, Sudan, Uganda and the Boer War. They includes intelligence material, diaries, photographs and publications.

Robert Colvile married Amelia Asgill in 1786. C R Colvile gathered copies of pamphlets by and against John Asgill (MP for Bamber, 1659-1738) who was a family connection. There is also an account of the imprisonment and release of Captain Asgill during the American War of Independence.

C R Colvile also collected pedigrees and genealogical material relating to the Colvile family and its connections by marriage including Bonell, Lowe, Cope, Asgill and Pratviel families.

These papers belonged to Gilbert Colville who died in Kenya in 1966. They were deposited by his distant cousin, Lt Cdr R F Colvile, DSC, RN (Ret) of Woking, Surrey in March 1967.
